WELCOME TO BEREAN STUDY GROUPS

Berean School of the Bible (BSB) provides a pathway for those seeking to meet the educational requirements for Assemblies of God ministerial credentialing, as well as those interested in enhancing their Bible knowledge. Courses are designed so that students may study independently and meet as a group to review, reinforce, and apply the principles learned.

Register your study group with Global University (GU) by submitting a completed Study Group Agreement form.

Study Group Agreement Form

Assemblies of God (AG) Churches

An AG church must complete the form. Once received by GU, they are automatically approved and can begin enrolling students and placing orders as soon as they have received their study group account information.

Non-Assemblies of God (AG) Churches

Non-AG churches may request approval by completing the form. Approval must be granted by the AG district in which the church is located. This may take up to 30 days for processing.

It is recommended that you become familiarized with the programs available from BSB. See program details and required courses in the current Berean School of the Bible catalog.

OPERATING A STUDY GROUP

Structuring the Study Group

Berean School of the Bible provides a flexible format. You may structure your study group in any way that is most helpful to your students and ministry. Choose the study group model that works best for your group.

1. Determine the level of interest. How many students will you have?
2. Structure your study group.
 - a. Which model fits your needs? (See examples below)
 - Group only
 - Individual mentoring only
 - Hybrid
 - b. What class format and schedule works best for your study group?
 - 8 weeks
 - 12 weeks
 - 15 weeks / once per week

Recruiting Staff and Facilitators

Study Group Coordinator

Appoint a study group coordinator to handle the administrative tasks of the study group, such as submitting student applications, enrolling students, and ordering courses.

Study Group Facilitator

Appoint a study group facilitator to handle the academic tasks for the study group, such as guiding group review sessions.

- The principal role of the facilitator is to encourage and guide interaction among the adult learners and to assist in clarifying any issues which arise.
- The facilitator does not need to “teach” the materials since learning is based in the course itself, but should help reinforce and review the course materials. This will include reviewing course content, leading discussions, guiding course progress, utilizing class presentation tools, and other group activities that promote student learning and growth.
- Exams are based on the course objectives in the independent-study textbook (IST).

Record Keeper

Appoint a record keeper or other administrative staff as needed for effective organization and management.

Students

Students should be prepared to commit to the designated in-class time, as well as individual study time outside of class.

Tools

- Study groups resource site
The site contains downloadable resources and promotional material, ideas from other study groups, and a link to our Global gear store, so you can purchase merchandise for your study group.
- Facilitator’s copy of the IST
- Instructional Facilitator’s Manual (IFM)
(Not all courses are currently supplied with an IFM. Available IFMs are listed on the Course Information Chart.) IFMs do not include student materials; they must be purchased separately. The IFM includes all components necessary for facilitating classroom review of the course content:
 - » Customizable lesson plans to accommodate class schedules and other logistical factors.
 - » PowerPoint slides that can be projected, used as overhead masters, or distributed as handouts.
 - » Group discussion questions.
 - » Worksheets and class handouts.
 - » Logos Digital Library research links.

» Interactive PDF to digitally prepare lecture notes and customize presentation planning.

Promoting

Once you are an approved GU study group, you will be provided with a one-time promotional tool packet that includes:

- Brochures
- Posters
- Advertising e-files with graphics that can be personalized with your church name and other relevant information. More items are also available on the study groups resource site.

While you have flexibility in naming and promoting your study group, you may not claim accreditation for your group, nor may you refer to the group as an extension of Global University or Berean School of the Bible. These are issues relating to our accrediting associations and are strictly forbidden.

Administration

Student Enrollment

Protecting Curriculum

Study groups found to have copied BSB materials (study guides, independent-study texts or exams), will have their status as a study group reviewed and may lose discount privileges. All BSB materials are copyrighted, and it is illegal to copy them for any use.

Academic Integrity

Registration at GU requires adherence to the university's standards of academic integrity. Please review the relevant sections in the current Berean School of the Bible catalog.

Instruction and Study

Group Learning

The purpose of reviewing the course content in a class session is to:

- Reinforce
- Rehearse
- Amplify
- Promote application of the material in the course

There is no prescribed approach to conducting group learning related to BSB courses. Accountability for progress and completion is a unique benefit of group study and should be emphasized through classroom dynamics.

Examinations and Required Materials

Included in this section are guidelines for preparing study group participants for final exams. See Preparing Students for Final Exams.

Online Exams

Berean School of the Bible exams are available to be taken online utilizing the GU student portal. It is recommended that students take advantage of this system. It provides immediate feedback, giving the student his or her exam score and a list of the objectives related to missed questions.

Printed Exams

Be sure students fill out the answer marking sheet completely when they take printed exams. Include the student's name, student number, course number, and exam form in the appropriate location.

Print exams for the entire study group should be scanned and emailed or returned in one envelope to Berean School of the Bible. Exams should be grouped according to course. You can request print exams by calling Student Services.

Required Materials for Course Completion

The following items must be returned when the course is complete. A grade for the course will not be assigned until the student has satisfactorily completed these materials and they have been returned to GU.

1. Closed-book exam validation certificate (exam cover sheet).
2. Answer marking sheet—This may be completed digitally, or may be printed. If printed, the student must mark their answers on the sheet with a pencil or pen, and then the sheet should be scanned. The file should be saved and emailed to bsbgradingservices@globaluniversity.edu.
3. The Service Learning Requirement (SLR) Report. This is an opportunity for the student to practice in ministry the concepts being learned. Most BSB courses require an SLR (the Ministerial Internship courses and older courses which require a textbook do NOT have SLR assignments). This assignment is found in the Essential Course Materials (ECM) section in the back of the course IST. The SLR report can be submitted online either through the online course or the SLR form on the GU website.

Exam Results

Final grade reports (FGR) are sent to the study group email address. The study group will be notified when a student's FGR is available.

Retake Exams

If a student fails an examination, they are allowed one retake exam and will be charged a retake fee. An alternate exam will be administered for the retake. If the student fails the retake, they must re-enroll in the course by paying the current tuition fee and then pass the final examination to receive credit for the course.

Preparing Students for Final Exams

Berean School of the Bible courses are designed to be used for individual study; however, learning is enhanced when students study in groups with a facilitator. Since final exams are designed to measure students' success in mastering the course content, facilitators are responsible to prepare students to do well on these exams.

Final exams are designed to measure students' mastery of the full breadth of each course's content. The exam score represents approximately how much of the course content a student learned. For example, a final exam score of 43 correct answers out of a possible 50 questions indicates that the student mastered approximately 86 percent of the course content.

*The final exam grade will only have this accuracy if the student has no prior knowledge of what specific questions or information will appear in the exam. Facilitators preparing students to take their exam should avoid indicating what information will be included on the exam.

It is critical to an educational program administered nationwide that final course grades reflect a standard meaning. The integrity of BSB transcript grades can be compromised if some students are tested over the entire course content and others tested only over specified lists of information. If this occurred, BSB grades would not retain a standard, accurate meaning regarding student achievement.

The IFMs are designed to fully prepare students for the exams. Facilitators who include all of the prechecked components in their sessions will have covered all material that students will be tested on, and students will be adequately prepared even though they have not been told which specific information will appear on the exam or the form in which questions will be presented. Facilitators may inform students that all the material covered by exam questions will be addressed during the group sessions. Berean School of the Bible faculty and administration appreciate all efforts to protect the integrity of the exam process. This mutual cooperation maintains the dependable standard represented by BSB academic transcripts and helps to ensure the quality education BSB students deserve.

Certificates, Diplomas, and Further Study Opportunities

Students who desire a Global University certificate or diploma are required to submit a graduation request and pay a program completion fee.

If a student's goal is to receive ministerial credentials with the Assemblies of God, he or she is eligible to apply to the local district upon completion of each level of study. Credentials are not granted by Global University or Berean School of the Bible; however, Global University will send a transcript upon request to verify to the district that the student has met the necessary educational requirements for credentialing.

Students are strongly encouraged to pursue a lifetime of learning. Berean School of the Bible courses are eligible for transfer, under certain restrictions, into a bachelor of arts degree program. Call Global University for details.
